

Getting to know you – Is a younger man right for you?

Women and Choice

Women now have more choices about whom they date and this includes having the choice to engage in age-gap relationships. Age is just a number which says that some of us have just been on the planet longer! The challenges of an age-gap relationship are just the same as any “relationship.”

Society has been accepting this choice from a male perspective for many years now. It is time women felt great about dating men from a different age group too.

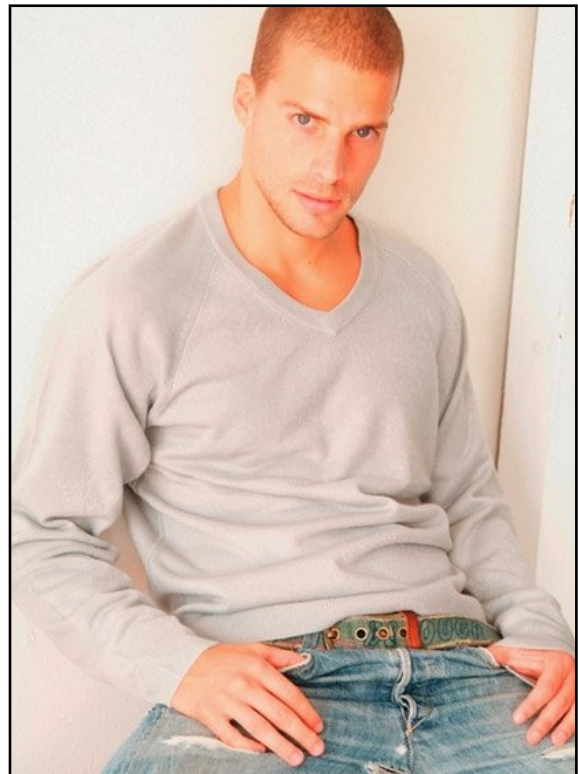

Most women in the West now enjoy autonomy in their personal lives and some form of rewarding self-expression in their work. Gone are the days where women’s lives were predominately governed by the men in their lives.

Women now have their own identities, finances, and are looking for equal partnerships in love.

They are moving away from old archetypes, where a woman expected a man to “look after her.”

Women, of a certain age, now have more choice in how to conduct their love life. And, surely the time has come for us to play men our age, at their own game.

You would go shopping at another store if you did not get good service, right? So let’s go on a shopping spree elsewhere!!

WOMEN WHO ❤️ YOUNGER MEN

Younger Men Acid Test – Is he good enough for you?

Benefits

So what are the other benefits of dating a younger man?

Younger men are more likely to want to “buy” into the philosophy shown in the quote!

Younger men, fresh, energetic, full of the buzz and vigour of life, perfectly matched with the Older Woman at her peak – biological

HEAVEN just as nature intended! Who knows better than Mother Nature?

A lot of younger men are prepared to take the career of the women they are involved with more seriously than men from other generations. Younger men are generally more accepting of the fact that women have their own ambitions and achievements.

Younger men know that today’s women are more than capable of “supporting” themselves and are “out there” making lives for themselves. They expect a woman to have her own tastes, identity and lifestyle; in other words, for a woman to think for herself.

These generation X and Y men have grown up with exposure to modern psychological terminology. Therefore they are generally more sensitive, open, and adventurous in their emotional lives.

*First, the older woman was placed on earth
to be worshipped, right?
And you got it;
the younger man came along
to serve this purpose!*

WOMEN WHO  YOUNGER MEN

Younger Men Acid Test – Is he good enough for you?

Rest of the World

You are looking for a sense of adventure and spontaneity. You are interested in dating someone whom society still deems, “unconventional.” No matter that men have been doing it forever.

However, views are changing, and you are part of the change. But it is important for you to know the score of dating younger men, as far as some of the mainstream world is concerned!

You will have to be prepared for the reactions of others to your dating life and choice of partner. It can arouse strong opinions in some people; make sure you know how you will handle such situations.

This includes the reaction of your children, if you have them, especially if they are teenagers. You will need to know how you will handle and manage their reaction.

Basic instincts or romance?

Here you should decide which camp you are looking for love in. Are you looking for a basic-instinct experience? Or is it all about the hunt for you, and the seeking of sexual adventures – period?

Or are you defining yourself as a woman who is doing what men have done throughout centuries? Going for a mate she finds most attractive, regardless of age or convention? If so, are you ready to explore the next level with a younger man: building intimacy, sharing and partnership?

Will you fulfil the “Cougar” predatory sex fantasy or are you looking for romance? Are you happy helping these younger men to be men, not necessarily in a sexual way, but helping them to understand what motivates women? Clarify the needs you hope to get met.

WOMEN WHO  YOUNGER MEN

Younger Men Acid Test – Is he good enough for you?

Do you feel good enough?

This goes without saying, but make sure you feel good enough to date a younger man. Know you're a bold, confident woman who knows what she wants and is deserving of a loving, fulfilling relationship.

You probably will have seen it all in terms of relationships; make sure you still have faith, you deserve good loving!

Know who you are, vivacious and sassy. Maybe you're curvy, all woman – own all of who you are! It's awesome!

So, you are a woman who has lived life, you will be confident, and have definite ideas of what you are looking for. It is useful to bear in mind that, sometimes, this can make you can forthright.

Some younger men can find this a little “intense” when getting to know you. Know that they may be speaking to lots of women; remember they don't know they like you just yet!

It is important to keep it light and fun; it makes it easier to get to know someone at the beginning of the encounter.

WOMEN WHO  YOUNGER MEN

Younger Men Acid Test – Is he good enough for you?

Younger men – infatuation or seriously looking for love?

It is important to know that some younger men are inexperienced at dealing with older women. Some will make mistakes, and be figuring out how to handle that the women they are attracted to is different to the rest of the world.

To love a very young man (early twenties), you must have a strong sense of self and firm identity. A degree of detachment is called for! Best to read between the lines rather than listen to his words. He may often be checking out his new independence in life, and be in developmental stages, emotionally.

The upside is that you get a slice of his insatiable energy for life as he devours it whole.

It is crucial to recognize the signs that your younger man is definitely into you. This will become apparent when you've MET him a few times in person and he's giving off the "loved up" vibe!

You should give him a chance to get to like you. To know that his life will be complete when you are in it.

Until you get the signs of a deeper connection, it is best not to read more into it...Fun is the name of the game, before he starts to be a significant other.

The fact is, men will love to take out a woman they are interested in and proud of. They will take out a woman many times that they have feelings for, even before sex comes up.

See his reaction if you ask to meet his friends.

Then you will be able to tell if he is truly interested in the whole package, or just has a crush on Eva Longoria!

WOMEN WHO  YOUNGER MEN

Younger Men Acid Test – Is he good enough for you?

Ten questions with which to probe yourself

1. Would you enjoy the attention, if you had a young man on your arm? Would your desirability rating would go up?
2. Do you consider the label, “Cougar” or MILF offensive? (Cougar, aka as predatory older woman who’s primary interest lies in bedding younger men, or MILF, aka “Mother I’d like to freak”)
3. The expectation is that ladies of a certain age have their act together; do you? Confident, deserving and empowered? Do younger men get to deserve you?
4. Are you just looking for fun? Looking for a fling with a hot young stallion? Or maybe you are a late bloomer who wants to enjoy life, finally after years of waiting on others?
5. The cons – worth considering the issues or insecurities that may arise around dating younger guys:
 - Will he like my body?
 - Will he stay?
 - How will I deal with others e.g. jealousy, negativity and judgement?
 - How will I handle the attentions of younger attractive women on my younger man?
6. The pros – what are the plus points of dating a younger man for you:
 - Huge ego boost?
 - Sexually dynamite?
 - Getting out and enjoying life and activity?
 - He will adore and admire you, even look up to you?
7. Are you an older women who goes after younger men?
8. What will a younger man do for you?
9. What will you do for a younger man?
10. Deal with the self-confidence questions you may ask yourself about seeking or wanting to date younger men?
 - Is this a mid life crisis?
 - Am I lost cause because I cannot date men my age?
 - Have I become a female version of Samantha from Sex in the City? Do I want to be?!

WOMEN WHO  YOUNGER MEN

Younger Men Acid Test – Is he good enough for you?